Dr. DeJoseph never thought twice about his decision to study medicine. His father, a renowned cardiologist, took his young son on many rounds at the hospital and to his office. He would later fulfill his own dreams of becoming a highly respected and well sought after doctor of facial plastic surgery.

Dr. DeJoseph is the doctor's doctor. With his 15 years of experience, he is a pioneer in developing cutting-edge techniques for facial rejuvenation injections as well as the facelift. Dr. DeJoseph developed the QT Mini Facelift, which has revolutionized the procedure, reducing patients' downtime by 50%. He is the author of various facial rejuvenation techniques for facial injections as well as an international trainer for the leading manufacturers of neurotoxins and facial fillers. In addition to surgery, speaking engagements and tending to his patients, Dr. DeJoseph is also the Fellowship Director for the American Academy of Facial Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery. Dr. DeJoseph has a passion for training young doctors and leading them to be experts in their field. He is actively involved with the "FACE to FACE" program here in Atlanta, providing restorative surgery for battered women and victims of domestic violence or other physical defects. He is committed to providing support and treatment for all those in need.
